The Disciple's Connection

Eyes On Jesus

February usually has some interesting events. The 2nd is Groundhog Day. Does anyone really believe a large member of the rodent family can predict the weather? We're going to have 6 more weeks, minimum, of winter. This is Northeast Ohio after all. Mari Gras will finish on the 13th this year, with Valentine's Day the next day. A day to celebrate love. A day that, we're told, should have every moment filled with love. Will the news that day be filled with only love? Highly doubt it. Also on the 14th, the season of Lent begins with Ash Wednesday.

We know this season well in Lutheran circles, Lent. I am still surprised by how many Christians have forgotten what Lent is. It's different than the rest of the month. These other events I've mentioned really involve personally receiving something: good weather "prediction", someone's love, a party and a pączki [or 2, or 3]. There's an old practice during Lent to give up something. Each year, I hear of people who voluntarily give up something for those 40 days.

Why do people choose to give up something for Lent? It helps them focus on and remember Jesus giving up His life for them. Some find this practice helpful; others think only about the thing they are giving up. If you choose to give up something for Lent, I hope it does help you remember Jesus' sacrifice for you. If you don't, I encourage you to read Hebrews 12:1-3 each day during Lent: "Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us. 2 Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. 3 Consider him who endured such opposition from sinful men, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart."

That's what Lent is all about, focusing our attention on Jesus. It is remembering his sacrifice for your sins and my sins. It is about drawing the attention of others to the cross of Christ where Good News, Perfect Love, and Eternal Celebration are found. It is a time to look at your life and take stock of how big a part God is in your life. There are different, free, devotional materials available for you at Lutheran Hour Ministries, lhm.org and Concordia Publishing House, cph.org. Make use of them in these coming 40 days so your eyes may be on Jesus, the author and perfecter of your faith.

In Christ

Happy ... What?

By William Weedon

I am just old enough to remember when the mid-February greeting used to run: "Happy Saint Valentine's Day!" Anyone else remember those days?

Yes, in school we made the obligatory heart of red construction paper with glued-on fancy lace for mom. Then there was the horrid popularity contest during which certain youngsters amassed piles of store-bought valentines, and the rest of us didn't. (Oops, did that sound bitter?)

The day was rounded out with copious cherubs brandishing bows and arrows and stomachaches occasioned by too much feasting on red, sugary hearts. Still, it was not uncommon to hear (or read): "Happy SAINT Valentine's Day!" Not that we ever gave the saint much thought, but the greeting still reminded us that there was a little more to the day.

Fast forward to our own time, and the saint has gone completely AWOL, the day hijacked by Eros, the god of the love between the sexes (although I suppose even THAT'S up for grabs at the moment). Eros' liturgy requires giving one's beloved a box of chocolates, perhaps a dozen red roses, and if you can swing it, a romantic dinner out (though the actual romance may be as AWOL as the saint).

In contrast, consider how the day is transformed when we remember the saint for whom it was named. Valentine was a third-century Christian and a physician. Around A.D. 270, under the reign of Claudius II in ancient Rome, Valentine laid down his life as a martyr for Christ. The red we associate with St. Valentine's Day is a fitting reminder of the blood of all the saints and the liturgical color of the feasts of Christ's martyrs.

We often primarily think of the martyrs as witnesses to the Christian faith, but I think that's off. A martyr is first and foremost a witness to the divine love that is at the HEART of the Christian faith: not eros, but agape. Valentine joins the hosts of others who died to witness to the shocking love that Christ our Lord poured forth into this crazy world. He came among us in the flesh, suffered, died and rose again. He ascended on high so that He might rule His own by uniting them in saving faith to His transformative love.

St. Paul was writing about that love when he urged the congregation in Rome, the very city where Valentine would be martyred a couple of centuries later, to love those who hated them:

Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another. Do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly. Never be wise in your own sight. Repay no one evil for evil, but give thought to do what is honorable in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord." To the contrary, "if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him something to drink; for by so doing you will heap burning coals on his head." Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.

(Rom. 12:14–21)

People loved by God, that is the very kind of love that the church celebrates on Feb. 14: a love that shines especially for those who hate us, want to do us harm, even take away our life.

According to a later tradition, after St. Valentine was arrested for his Christian confession, he befriended his jailer's daughter. Pitying the poor child who would miss his company, he wrote her a note of encouragement on the eve of his death. He loved that little girl, his jailer and even his executioner! How could he not? He knew that in love for him, poor sinner that he was, Jesus had given him a life of which death could never rob him.

We don't know if the details of this story are sound, but we do know that Valentine died a martyr for Christ and that the tradition of sending notes of love and encouragement on his feast day persists.

So here's my challenge to you: Put the "saint" back in the day. On Feb. 14, celebrate the martyr who witnessed to the love that lasts forever, the love of the crucified, risen and returning Lord! A very happy St. Valentine's Day to one and all!

Life Quotes for February

February 4 “Please rejoice in knowing prayer works and keep praying for the states who still haven’t banned abortions and for those states trying to ward off those who want to bring it back. We are not done praying and never will be. God is on our side, and He has a plan. We need to stand firm and with faith never give up praying. God controls the power of prayer, and He is amazing.” Virginia Flo, Lutherans For Life – A Life Quote from Lutherans For Life • lutheransforlife.org

February 11 “We live dripping with the promise of Baptism. We live fueled by the fire of God’s Word. We live created on the sixth day and recreated by God’s grace to be followers of Jesus seven days of the week until that great eighth day, called eternity, when we will sing praise in His presence forever. We live and we love and we are loved in the Name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, sin forgiven, shame erased, status: all very good.” Rev. Dr. John Nunes, guest speaker on “The Lutheran Hour” – A Life Quote from Lutherans For Life • lutheransforlife.org

February 18 “The state can punish offenders, but it can’t give birth to law-abiding citizens. The state cannot love or nurture a child. It takes a family. A radical thought, that, but off limits in our public conversations swept clean of moral discourse. Pray that this will change.” James M. Kushiner, The Fellowship of St. James – A Life Quote from Lutherans For Life • lutheransforlife.org

February 25 “Our Heavenly Father remains active and almighty, especially in the difficult circumstances that life issues involve. In joining Himself to us with His incarnation, wisdom, power, atonement, and resurrection, Jesus makes every human life blessed—and a blessing! He lovingly and ably handles decisions about welfare and affliction, life and death, so that we don’t have to do it on our own.” Pastor Michael Salemink – A Life Quote from Lutherans For Life • lutheransforlife.org

2024 Lenten Schedule

The Lenten Season will soon be upon us. Join us on Wednesdays for our midweek Lenten services starting Ash Wednesday, February 14, at 7:00 pm for the series:

“Words of Life from the Cross”

The theme of this series is the seven words of Christ that He spoke from the cross as He offered up His life for the life of the world. Each word imparts a blessing and is a word of Gospel. The sermons in this series will expound on these words of Christ, linking them to Jesus’ words and works recorded in the Gospel as well as the Old Testament prophecies that pointed to Him. Each word of Christ proclaims and delivers something about Him, the Word Incarnate, and delivers His saving death to us that we would trust Him for forgiveness, life, and salvation.

Greetings from the Board of Outreach

I want to begin by thanking the members of St. Paul's who continue to support the Outreach Committee. Some have dedicated many hours over the years to support this important mission. Others, such as myself, have recently joined the Outreach committee and appreciate the programs and ideas put in place which will guide us going forward. A special thank you to Kristi, Starshine, Jeff, Dennis, Nancee, Kathy, and Scott! In January and February, we are working on ideas for this year's events. Our "Love Thy Neighbor" free hot dog lunch will become an open house for the Church and St. Paul's Preschool. More to come on this as we get closer to August. Closer on the calendar is Easter! Plastic Easter eggs have been filled with candy and other surprises for the preschool Easter egg hunt. Also, for Easter Sunday, the Outreach committee will be hosting an Easter Breakfast here at St. Paul's. All are invited and the time for the breakfast will be available in the March newsletter and bulletins. Continue to pray for guidance that all we do is for the glory of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and His Church!

In His service,

Ken Chaffe, Outreach Chair

Are You Feeding Your Mite Box?

Altar Flowers

Is there a date or event you would like to celebrate or a special someone you would like to honor or remember. Donating altar flowers is a great way to do that! All you have to do is sign up next to the appropriate weekend on the altar chart, add the occasion or person and who the flowers are from. Be sure to print clearly. The Altar Flower Chart is posted on the double doors at the back of the sanctuary. Altar flowers are $40.00. The cash or check can be placed in an envelope labeled "Altar Flowers" with the date of the weekend and placed in the collection plate.

Automated Giving Program

Have you thought of automating your weekly offering? St. Paul's has a program called Simply Giving that does just that. Simply Giving is an automated giving program from Thrivent Financial used at St. Paul's to help you conveniently and consistently contribute to the church. There are many benefits to enrolling:

1. It is a reliable and safe way to move your stewardship plan into action.
2. It allow you to share your gifts through planned giving and activates your generosity into ongoing stewardship.
3. Because the giving is consistent you won't miss Sunday offerings.
4. The congregation benefits from steady, more predictable revenue throughout the year.
5. There is more efficient bookkeeping.
6. Greater confidence in meeting the church's financial commitments

It's easy to enroll. Fill out the form attached to the flyer located on the table at the back of the Sanctuary and put it in Billie Lelle's mailbox.
